The pace of our lives sometimes makes us forget something essential: we need to share intense, warm moments together. The joy of playing remains unparalleled, and its virtues are countless. We're committed to nurturing these virtues and helping you enjoy them over the long term. We believe that leisure products that can be used for decades should blend harmoniously into their environment, and even enhance it. That's why we've created the Play-Style universe.

Stylish and playful

The aim of the Play-Style universe is to bring together the pleasures of playing and the pleasures of the eye, to enhance the experience of leisure activities. The care given to every detail makes these products unique, both in their qualities and their aesthetics: materials, pure design lines, quality of conception and finishing.

Enhance places and invite people to get together.

Unique expertise

A family enterprise faithful to its DNA and values, Cornilleau takes inspiration from its roots to innovate and renew itself. Originally a cabinetmaking business, then a world-renowned ping-pong specialist, the company now offers a diversified range of products based on the ingredients that have made it a success. With all its expertise surrounding its headquarters in the north of France, and in collaboration with a network of local partners, Cornilleau continues the tradition of quality and durability.

Furniture or leisure, no need to choose

Let the conviviality of a game follow that of a meal and go from a pool or ping-pong table to a dining table in an instant. Do you want to equip your outdoor space with designer furniture or a gametable? Play-Style products are for those who refuse to choose and prefer sharing moments.

Get together around the table and share
a game or a meal

Durable by nature

Enjoying a game outside gives you an incomparable feeling of freedom. This feeling can only be fully achieved when trust in the equipment is total and indisputable. Rain, snow, extreme heat: our tables are tested in every environment. Every component, every material, every mechanism has been rigorously tested to guarantee each product for between 5 and 10 years. With minimal maintenance, they can last much longer. Like all Cornilleau products, they can be repaired using spare parts that remain available for at least 20 years after purchase.

The freedom and pleasure of outdoor activities is only made possible thanks to the unquestionable durability of our products.

HYPHEN

COLLECTION

The Hyphen collection's unconventional attributes make it equally suited to modern environments and more classic settings. A true hyphen between styles and eras, it combines the finesse of its lines with the strength of steel. The Hyphen collection is both stylish and timeless.

When table tennis meets design

The successful marriage between the world of table tennis and the world of design is based on two main ingredients: Cornilleau's expertise in ping-pong and strong aesthetic choices. Its lines, materials and finishes work like a charm, inviting some to play and others to admire. Its quality, strength and durability enable it to blend durably into a variety of outdoor and indoor spaces.

PING-PONG TABLE

For smaller places

Closer to the size of a dining table, the medium version of the Origin outdoor table shares the same basic attributes as its larger version. Requiring less space, it can simply replace a classic garden table, while still offering the possibility of enjoying the pleasures of ping-pong. Its aesthetics and proportions allow it to fit into many gardens or terraces, or even living rooms, adding a touch of design that will make these spaces unique.

MICHEL ZANY
President

Innovation drives our work

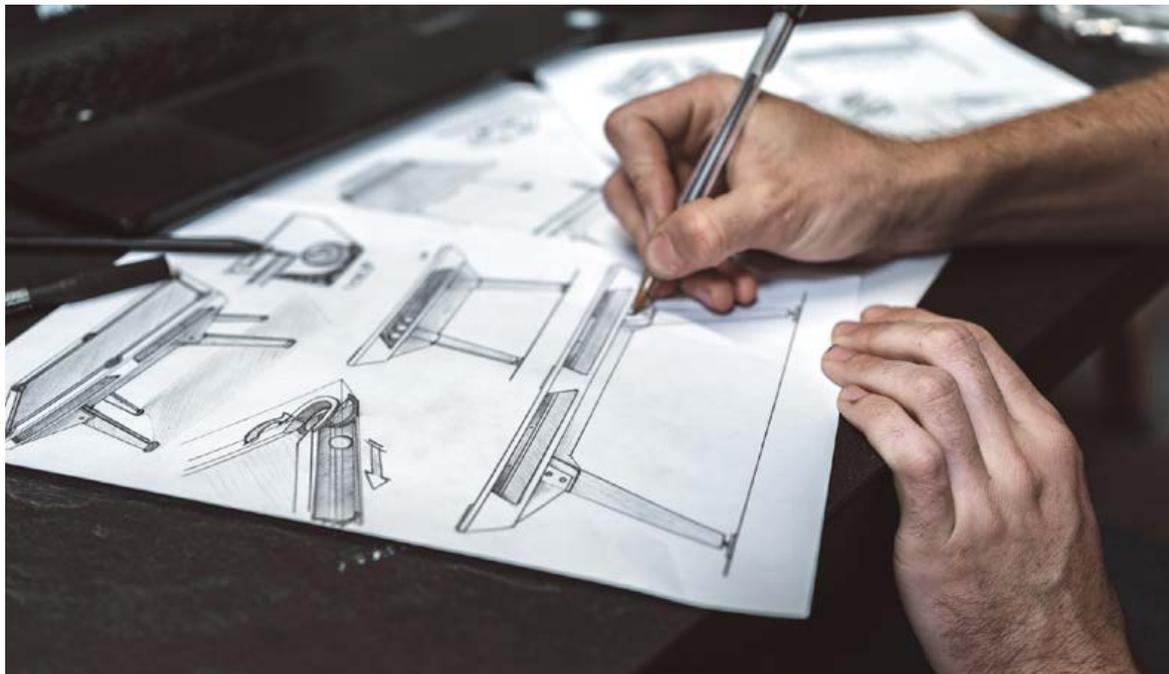

Since the very beginning, Cornilleau has been rethinking, and sometimes anticipating the way we play. This philosophy implies a major investment in design, research and development. With 10% of its workforce dedicated to these missions, the company is constantly striving to remain at the forefront of innovation.

Our design philosophy

Every line, every piece of equipment, every detail is designed to meet a dual goal: aesthetics and use. We are convinced that it is this approach to the product that provides the best possible experience for every user. Our vision of use includes not only ergonomics, but also performance and durability, so that the pleasure of playing can be passed down from generation to generation.

By incorporating the notion of responsibility from the very outset of design, Cornilleau does everything possible to reduce its impact on the environment. Sustainable materials, eco-design, standardization of parts to ensure repairability... every design choice is part of a responsible approach.

Industrial expertise

The know-how of a craftsman, the quality of a manufacturer. The link between R&D, which designs products, and production, which brings them to life, is particularly strong. Only in this way can we produce high-quality products that are constantly improving. This philosophy is inherited from Pierre Cornilleau, who put it into practice in the 70s, producing up to 100,000 world-renowned ping-pong tables a year.

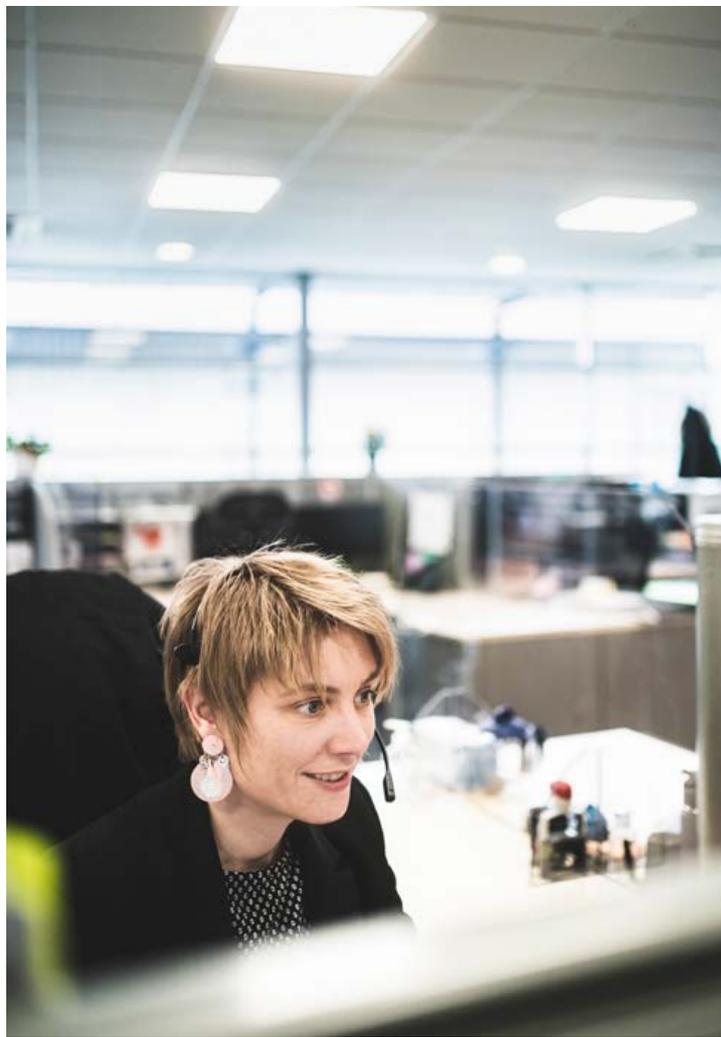

88

Quality first and foremost

Every component of every product is tested in our laboratory to ensure its mechanical quality, strength and durability. This is followed by real-life conditions testing, however extreme. And once a product is on the market, it's not over: we continue to challenge and improve it on an ongoing basis.

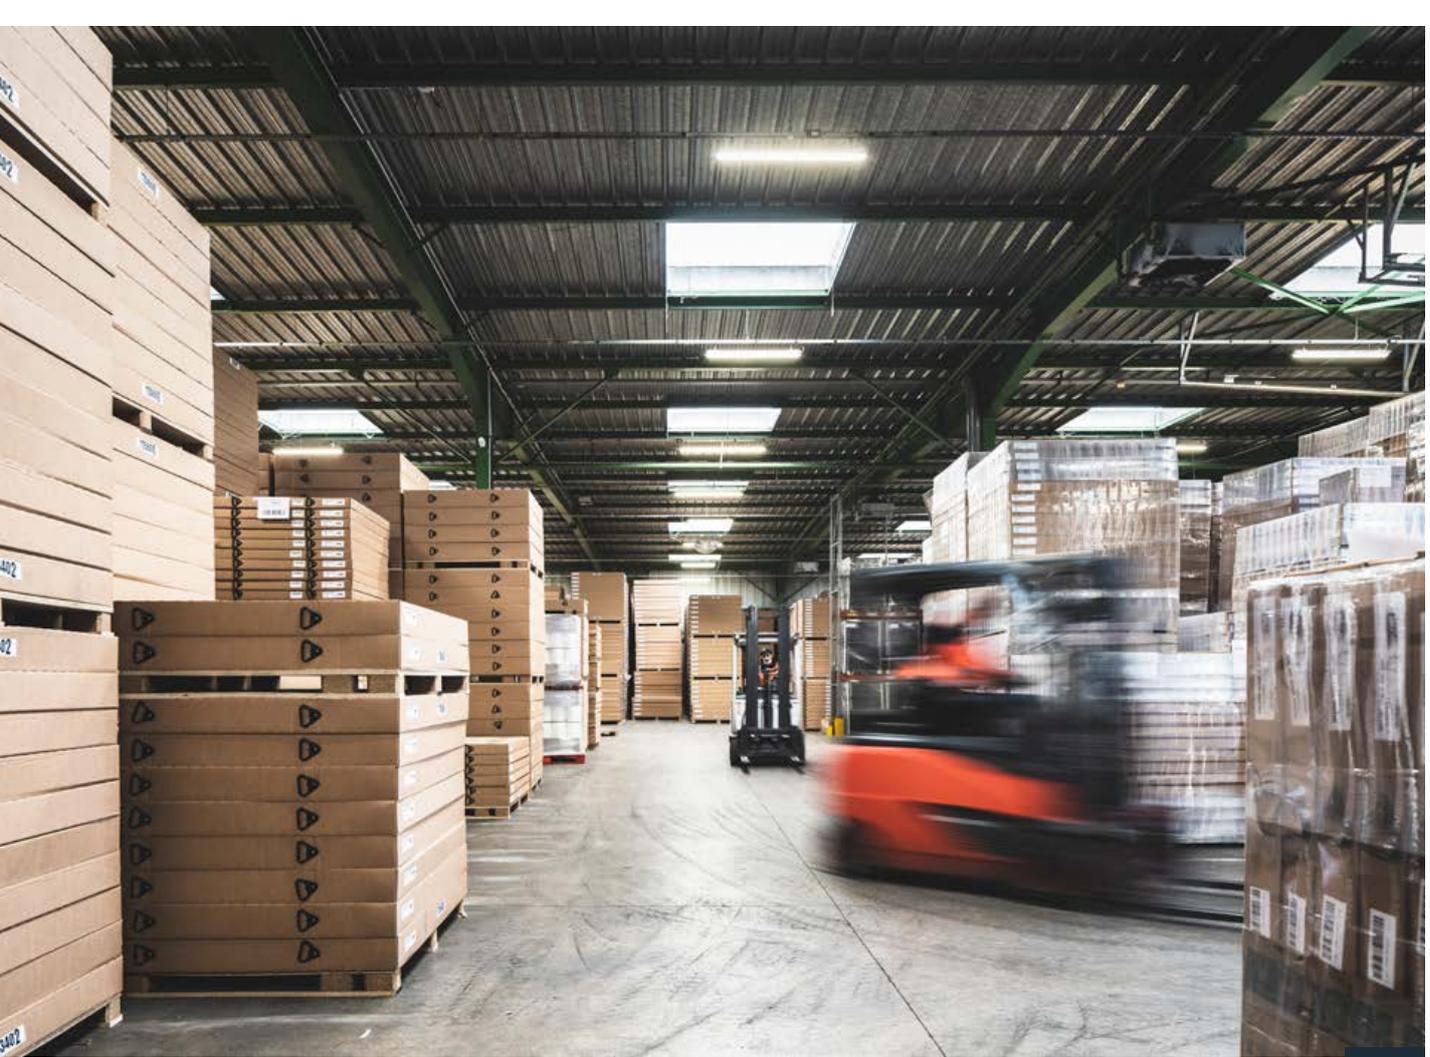

90

At your service

In order to provide quality service to all our customers, whether dealers, private individuals or partners, we have set up a dedicated team at the heart of our head office. Its mission is to help, advise and provide solutions, and it can call on the various experts at head office to respond effectively to requests.

We are committed to providing quality service, from pre-ordering to logistics and delivery management, as well as after-sales service and advice on repairing products even decades after purchase.
